FINDS BIG DIFFERENCE

Banker Batchelder Sees Improvement in Honolulu.

George Aiken Batchelder, Pacific Coast manager for E. H. Rollins & Sons, bankers, of Boston, Chicago, Denver and San Francisco, who arrived on the Manchuria, and is now a guest at the Moana Hotel with his wife and son, negotiated the first issue of bonds of the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company. That was four years ago. His extended visit here this time is enforced owing to the stranding of the Manchuria, as his plans were not to stop over here this time. He was en route to the Orient, after touring which he would complete a circuit of the world.

"and a great difference for the better in the appearance of Honolulu since I was here last," said Mr. Batchelder yesterday. "The town, as I recollect it, had many buildings and stores for rent, but now it seems to me as though you had added many new buildings, and I don't see so many rent signs."

"Honolulu is to be especially congratulated on the condition of its streets. They are fine. People, visitors at least, like a town better if they find the streets are well kept."

"Money appears to be cheaper here now than when I was here last—that is, it is more plentiful."

"As far as your street-car transportation is concerned it is much better than most of the companies on the Coast, because everyone entering a car is given a seat. The cars are very clean and the conductors and motormen very courteous. Patrons of the line receive courteous treatment from all the conductors. I have noticed."

"I had not intended to stop over here, but now I am very glad we were ship-

Pure blood makes the skin clear, smooth, healthy.

Impure blood blotches the skin with pimples, sores, boils, eczema, eruptions. Mr. G. W. Burtner, Keezletown, Va., tells of the bad condition he was in, and how he was cured by

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Shortly after leaving college, I was troubled with a skin disease which showed itself first at the ankles. Physicians pronounced it eczema, and treated me for that complaint. The eruption crept slowly up my limbs, and on the body, until it enveloped the whole frame. It gave me infinite trouble, with constant itching, casting off of dry scales, and a watery liquid which would exude from under the scales. I treated it for over three years unsuccessfully, and was unable to check it until I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I used three bottles of this medicine, and was completely cured—my skin becoming as smooth and clear as before."

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "AYER'S."

AN OAK FROM MT. VERNON GROWING ON TANTALUS.

Near the summit of Mount Tantalus, on the Robertson premises, there is growing a young oak tree which has a history. The tree sprang from a root taken from one of the oaks at Mt. Vernon, Va., and from a tree which was well-grown when George Washington was master of the place.

Daughters of the American Revolution forwarded the root to Secretary of the Territory A. L. C. Atkinson, who turned it over to Attorney A. G. M. Robertson. The root was planted and the young tree is flourishing.

wrecked. I have not heard a single passenger expression any opinion other than pleasure in being able to stop off here.

"The attitude of the Pacific Mail Company is unusually generous toward the passengers, and the agents here have done everything possible for the comfort of the passengers and I am sure it is appreciated by all."

IT WAS STALE NEWS.

The landlord of the Surf house having withdrawn his advertisement from the local dailies noticed a forbidding change in their treatment of himself and his hotel.

Tearing down Ocean street, he burst like a westerly gale the other morning into the office of the Morning Spray.

"Did this paper say my place was on the bum?" he roared.

"No," said the editor.

"Did it call me a thief?"

"Of course not."

He frowned in perplexity.

"Well, some paper did," he growled.

"Perhaps," hazarded the editor, "it was our contemporary, the Wave. We never print stale news ourselves."

TWO OF THEM.

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself, Phyllis, to speak like that before a third person."

A day off

If you contemplate a rest for a day or a week we would like you to consider Haleiwa. There is no place within easy reach of Honolulu that offers the same attractions, no other locality has the food, climate or environments. The house was full over Sunday; it might be well for you to keep away from disappointments by ordering your room today.

"Phwere hov yez been this avenin'?" asks O'Tunder, of O'Toole.
"Sure, I've been playing Bridget whist. 'Tis a foine game, it is."
"Bridget whist? An' how do yez play that?"
"Oi sit in the kitchen wid Bridget and ate pie an' cake an' chicken, an' when Bridget hears the mistress comin' she says, 'Whist!' and Oi hide in the pantry."—Judge.

The Greater Half: "Here's a sad affair; a young man about to lead his betrothed to the altar was run down and killed by an express train."
The Lesser Half (absent-mindedly): "What a narrow escape!"—Life.
